RE: 2018 Roadway Improvements
Date: August 30, 2018

Troy Center Work Update:

- On August 31, the base grading is anticipated to be completed on Fourth Street and a portion of Briggs Street north of Fourth Street.
- On September 4, grading crews plan on grading the base north from Fourth Street to CTH J. Once this is complete, the crews plan to work their way down Briggs Street from Fourth to First Street completing the side streets as they go. In the short term, the crews will create a ramp at each driveway to help maintain access. The base grading is anticipated to take a couple of weeks to complete.
- Rain is forecasted for the holiday weekend, and the roads will become a challenge to traverse when they become wet. It is advised to park in the alley and get to and from CTH N from Fourth Street.
- We will provide updates as the schedule is amended.
